Fine Art & Photography

Daughters of Justice painting.
Created with reference taken at the Menton Arabian show.

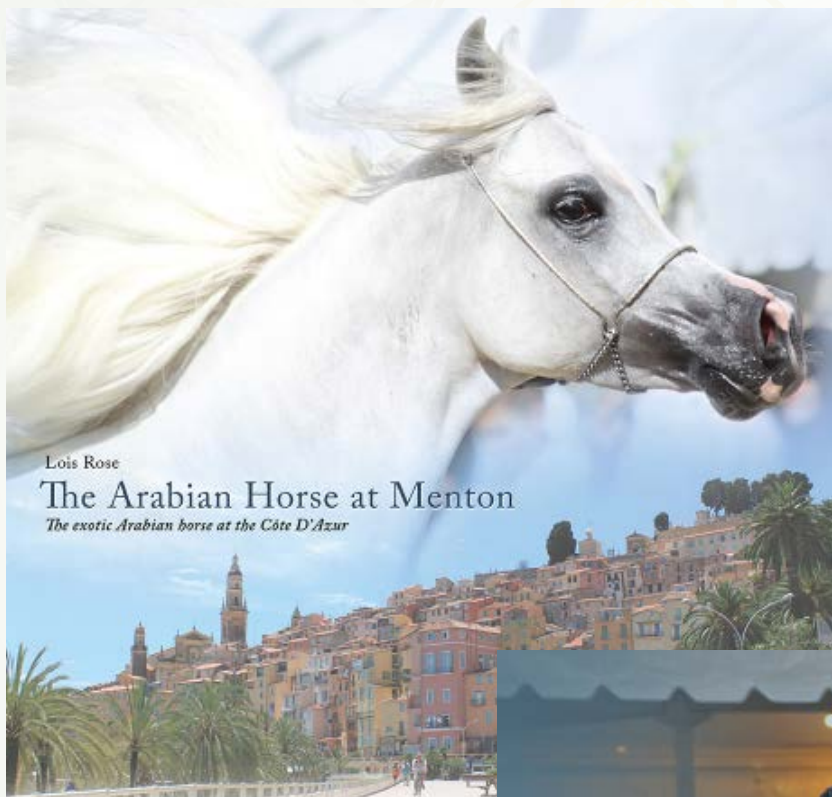

As a devotee and artist of the Arabian horse breed, I regularly attend shows where I take photographs for my own reference, and to create a library of Arabian horse photos. For five years between 2010 and 2015 I have attended the Mediterranean and Arab Countries Arabian Horse Championship at Menton, France. I have created paintings from photographs I have taken at this show but I felt that the photographs themselves needed a showcase. So in my book "The Arabian Horse at Menton" I share many of my photographs -- 95% of them never before seen -- from my private portfolio. In this soft-cover, glossy full-colour artbook I hope to celebrate the beauty of the Arabian horse as seen at Menton. All horses featured have been left unidentified, as I would invite people to enjoy the Arabian horses for what they are rather than who they are. I hope those who purchase this book find as much enjoyment in the photographs as I did in taking them!
